

myQ Will Make its Late-Night Debut on “Jimmy Kimmel Live!” Tonight

By: Gina Hardy, Chief Marketing and Experience Officer at Chamberlain Group.

2024 has truly been a landmark year for Chamberlain Group. We took significant steps forward with the expansion of our myQ Smart Home Ecosystem launching our first smart indoor and outdoor cameras which are designed to make modern life easier, and more secure. And tonight, we're adding another "first" to our list: our late-night TV debut in an integration on Jimmy Kimmel Live! as part of the brand-new “Boost Your Home’s IQ” campaign!

In this exciting partnership, we're showcasing the myQ ecosystem and all it can do to streamline smart home access management. Imagine being able to secure, monitor, and control your garage door and other home entry points from anywhere—all from a single app. Our collaboration with Jimmy Kimmel Live! brings myQ to a new, highly engaged audience, showing off how our tech adds both peace of mind and convenience to daily life.

So, whether you're a loyal myQ user or just learning about us, you won't want to miss this (or the “big ass turtle”). Catch the show and see what we mean when Jimmy Kimmel Live! airs tonight at 11:35|10:35 CT on ABC and see how we're raising the IQ of homes everywhere—one smart device at a time.
